MANY ADDITIONAL SECTIONS

Andrew Leaves Sick Bed to Attend Council Meeting When Quorum is Temporarily Broken.

The regular meeting of the city council last night developed into rather a paradoxical session. The members didn't know exactly when they were in session and occasionally Mayor Ross had to count noses to find out if a quorum was present. One count revealed that only three members were present and the proceedings were interrupted for about half an hour until the fourth councilman arrived. With seven members four are required for a quorum. At one time the situation became so acute (using a term that is frequently seen in connection with the national situation) that an eye was kept on each councilman in the room to prevent him from escaping down the hallway.

When the time came for calling the meeting to order there were but four councilmen present—Rockstroh, Ley, Ahlbrand and Murray. Hodapp was in New Albany on account of the illness of a relative, Andrews was in bed sick with the grip and Steinwedel was detained. After the routine business had been transacted and the council was about ready to take up the light franchise on second reading Ahlbrand stepped from the room. Nothing was thought of his absence for a few minutes but later it was found that he was not in the building. After his departure there were but three members left and the proceedings were halted for lack of a quorum.

Mayor Ross left the chair and conferred with City Attorney Kasting. The latter opened up a law book and began looking for information. He couldn't find much, it is stated, but soon Mayor Ross found a section that provides that if any member of a council leaves a session without permission and his withdrawal from the room breaks a quorum he is liable to a fine not to exceed $100. Mayor Ross doesn't profess to be a lawyer but he is right there "with the goods" when it comes to hunting sections "in point" especially when the city legal talent can't find them.

Upon the discovery of the section by the Mayor, the city attorney and Chief of Police McCord were sent out to hunt Ahlbrand and read the section to him. The mayor does not have the power to require a member of the council to attend a meeting or even return after he leaves the council chamber.

In the meantime a telephone call by those interested in the passage of the light franchise was sent to Andrews who was told that the proceedings were delayed and that three members were present. Andrews promised to come and leaving his bed was in the council chamber several minutes later. As soon as Andrews arrived the ordinance was placed on second reading.

Soon after Andrews came, the city attorney arrived in the council chamber and apparently was surprised to see that Andrews was present and that the ordinance was on second reading. He listened to the proceedings for a few minutes, offered a few suggestions and then got his hat and again left the room. About four minutes later he and Ahlbrand returned.

Ahlbrand today explained that he had an important engagement and was returning to the city building when he met Kasting. The latter told the councilmen, he said, that he was wanted in the meeting. Ahlbrand explained that it was not his intention of breaking the quorum and when he left the room he expected to be absent but a minute or so but was detained and that it was impossible for him to return sooner than he did.

"It was certainly not my intention to break the quorum," Ahlbrand said. "I have never missed a regular meeting of the council since I was elected to the office and when I left last

MANY REPUBLICANS TO ATTEND COUNTY MEETING

A. M. Hall, of Indianapolis, will Give Address at Brownstown, Tuesday Afternoon.

Much interest is shown by Republicans in this county in the meeting to be held at Brownstown next Tuesday afternoon. It was arranged by County Chairman Frank Brady, of Crothersville.

A. M. Hall, of Indianapolis, has been engaged as the speaker and a splendid address is assured. At the conference yesterday the representatives from the several townships were enthusiastic over the prospects for the mass meeting and urge the Republicans of their localities to attend. The conference yesterday afternoon was in the nature of a business discussion of local conditions. The primary law was discussed in a general way and other matters pertaining to the coming primary were taken up.

The state Republican committee is expecting to send out at an early date the complete report of the attorneys representing the three parties who decide upon several disputed sections of the primary law. Copies of their findings will be mailed to the county and precinct workers.

ARGUMENTS HEARD IN CITY ENGINEER'S CASE

Judge Swails to Decide if Controversy Can be Settled on Points of Law Without Trial.

COURT TO CLOSE SATURDAY

Attorneys in the city engineer's case presented arguments before Judge Swails in circuit court this afternoon. This suit was filed by W. H. Rights, Mayor Ross' appointee to the office, to collect the salary that is being withheld by the city treasurer until a court decision is given. The city of Seymour was named as the defendant in the original complaint filed by Judge O. H. Montgomery, representing the plaintiff, but later by consent the name of E. B. Douglass, who was ousted from the office, was substituted. The issues were completed several days ago. If the court finds that either of the contestants is entitled to hold the office under points of law there will be no trial of the case but if there is no settlement at this time evidence will be introduced. T. M. Honan, E. P. Elsner and F. W. Wesner represent the defendant.

Judge Creigsmile, sitting as special judge in the case of Stanfield & Carlson, of this city, and Henry W. Crawford, of Mitchell, plaintiffs against Frank Dixon, et al., to quit title to property in Sparksville, held today for the defendants. The property in question is a building occupied by the Red Men's Order and was erected by the plaintiffs. On a mechanics lien the plaintiffs were given judgment and to them was issued a sheriff's deed on the building. The defendants had become owners of the property on a foreclosure of mortgage and contested the right of the plaintiffs to the title. It was alleged that the sheriff of Jackson county had served notice on Dixon, a resident of Lawrence county, and that he acted outside his jurisdiction. The defendants filed a plea in abatement which was sustained by the special judge. The value of the mechanics lien is now in question.

Judge Swails today granted a divorce to Mrs. Ruth Foist from Charles Foist, giving her $550 alimony, $100 attorneys' fees and the custody of her daughter, Ruth. The defendant was also required to pay $10 a month for the support of the child.

The December term of the circuit court will close tomorrow.

I.O.O.F. MEETING IS WELL ATTENDED

Representative of Lodges of County Gather Today for Conference With Grand Lodge Officers.

DEGREE SESSIONS TONIGHT

Report of District Deputy Shows That Order in County is in Excellent Condition.

Odd Fellows from the various lodges in the county began arriving in the city this morning to attend the county meeting and conference here today. All of the county lodges were well represented when the round table conference began at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Present at the conference were Grand Master Macbeth, Grand Patriarch Stewart, Mrs. Mary Stipp, president of the Rebekah Assembly, and the representatives of the various branches of the order.

A report of the year's work in the county was made by District Deputy F. L. Schornick, showing that a substantial gain in membership had been made in 1915, and that the lodges were in an excellent condition. Representatives of the various lodges responded to the roll call with brief reports of the work being done in their lodges, following which the Grand Master, in a very helpful and inspiring talk, addressed the meeting, urging a continuance of the good work that has been done in Jackson county, and increased efficiency in lodge work. Grand Patriarch Stewart presented the claims of the Encampment degrees and urged all subordinate members to take these advanced degrees. Mrs. Stipp spoke for the Rebekah degree, making a very helpful talk and giving some wholesome advice to both lodges and individual members. Following the addresses, informal talks were made by several, and the grand officers answered several questions on the general laws, etc.

This evening the subordinate lodge will hold a degree meeting, the Seymour degree staff conferring the first degree.

The Rebekahs will meet at the K. of P. hall, the degree being conferred by Crothersville lodge. A reception for the visiting officers will be held after the degree meetings, a luncheon and social hour bringing the county meeting to a close.

CANTON INSTALLS OFFICERS AND STANDS INSPECTION

Patriarchs Militant Company Given Good Word by Inspecting Officer at Annual Inspection.

The annual inspection, installation of officers and banquet of Canton Seymour No. 11 were held last evening at the I. O. O. F. hall, and proved a very enjoyable occasion for the officers and chevaliers present. The Canton was honored by the presence of Mayor General H. K. Landes, Commander of the Department of Indiana, who, assisted by Capt. Hyatt, of Canton Indianapolis No. 2, installed the following officers: Captain, B. F. Gillman; Lieutenant, Urban Kysar; Ensign, H. C. Brethauer; Clerk, F. L. Schornick, Accountant, W. L. Clark.

Capt. Hyatt was the inspecting officer, and was accompanied in the inspection by Major General Landes and Major Carter, of the Seymour Battalion, who was an invited guest. Both Capt. Hyatt and Major Landes spoke very highly of the showing of the Canton, and pronounced it one of the front rank Cantons of Indiana. Capt. Hyatt assisted in the institution of Canton Seymour, and has inspected the company on another occasion, while Major Landes has also been the guest of Canton No. 11 on several occasions.

Following the inspection a sumptuous banquet was served in the dining hall. Several Scottsburg members of the local Canton were present for the occasion.

MERCHANTS PLAN FOR CONVENTION

Nothing to be Left Undone for the Success of Meeting of State Merchants' Association in 1917.

LOCAL DELEGATES ARE HOME

H. L. Bridges and L. L. Bollinger Waged Hard Campaign to Get Session Here Next Year.

H. L. Bridges and L. L. Bollinger have been busy today receiving congratulations upon their success in bringing the convention of the Indiana Merchants' Association for 1917 to this city and answering inquiries as to how the "trick was turned." Briefly told the story of their campaign was composed mostly of work and enthusiasm. They talked Seymour from the time they stepped from the train in Lafayette until the delegates by a big majority voted to come here next year.

The delegates from the local Merchants' Association went to Lafayette before the main body of merchants arrived and had their big posters and other advertising matter in the most conspicuous places by the time the convention was called to order. When the delegates arrived they were confronted with "Seymour" on every side and before they were aware they were advocating the selection of this city for the next annual meeting. The local delegates distributed pennants and came among the visitors.

Muncie and Indianapolis were in the race for the meeting next year but were forced out of the ring when the Seymour boosters began to work. Terre Haute, Columbus, Lafayette and a number of other cities voted solid delegations for this city. At the final meeting Mr. Bridges made an address before the delegates in which he took occasion to boost Seymour as the best city of its size in Indiana. He reviewed in a general way the municipal enterprises that had been arranged here recently and emphasized the fact that the convention had never been held in the southern part of the state.

Mr. Bridges told the convention that northern Indiana cities had had the meeting so many times that the southern Indiana towns were beginning to lose interest in it and that if Seymour was selected the merchants here through their association would do everything they could to revive interest in the meeting and get a large representation of southern Indiana merchants at the convention in 1917. He pointed out that few cities could offer advantages in the way of railroad facilities equal to those of Seymour and said the attendance ought to be one of the largest in the history of the association. When the vote was taken Seymour received more than twice as many votes as Muncie which was the second choice.

Local merchants and dealers are greatly pleased over the result of the meeting in Lafayette and are already talking about plans that will make the 1917 convention a success. Elaborate preparations for the meeting will be made if the present plans are carried out. The local associations believe that this will be a splendid opportunity to show the leading dealers throughout the state the many splendid things that make Seymour the Gateway of Southern Indiana.

Assurance is given that the new hotel building to be erected by C. E. T. Dobbins, will be completed several months before the convention comes here. In this building a large assembly room will be arranged where the meetings can be held if the arrangement committee so desires. Committees will be appointed by the local associations to arrange for the entertainment of the visitors and make the convention the very best ever held by the Indiana Association.

DESTRUCTION IN PATH OF TORRENTS

One Dead and Thousands Made Homeless as Result of Floods in Northern Illinois.

$1,000,000 PROPERTY DAMAGE

Streets in Joliet, LaSalle and Other Cities Filled with Water to Depth of Six Feet.

By United Press.

Chicago, January 21.—One dead, thousands homeless and property damage estimated at more than $1,000,000 was the toll today of floods in northern Illinois. The Illinois, Fox, Vermilion, Calumet and Chicago Rivers, swollen to three times normal size at many places, spread out over thousands of acres of farm lands when ice gorges blocked the torrents.

Rain falling steadily since yesterday evening melted snow and ice and sent every stream tumbling down to rivers in torrents that swept away houses in their path. Colder weather tonight may prevent further serious damage, the weather bureau predicted.

The heaviest damage was at Joliet, LaSalle and suburbs of Chicago. Five and six feet of water stood in some streets in these towns. At La Salle, Steve Brunatto, 18, was drowned in the flooded Vermilion.

By United Press.

Phoenix, January 21.—Later reports from Winkelman, Ariz., reported wiped out by floods with probably loss of four lives, stated the strong flood current made rescue work extremely difficult and dangerous. Over one hundred persons were homeless. Fifteen were marooned on high ground and were thought to be in momentary danger of being swept away. The floods had most subsided today after several days' rain.

CONCERNING MEN WHO WROTE PATRIOTIC SONGS

New York, Jan. 21—From data just gathered by the Metropolitan Opera Company these facts are learned about patriotic songs familiar to nearly everyone.

The national song of the French, the "Marseillaise," was composed by Rouget de Lisle, a captain of engineers quartered at Strasburg when the volunteers of the Bas Rhein received orders to join Luckner's army. They had no music, but at the suggestion of Dietrich, the mayor of Strasburg, De Lisle composed this song on the night of April 24, 1792. It was subsequently sung in Marseilles with immense success, hence its name. The song as it stands is the greatest revolutionary hymn in the world. The French government recently transferred the body of Rouget de Lisle (who suffered imprisonment for his revolutionary opinions during his lifetime, to the Palace des Invalides with great pomp and ceremony.

The music of "Deutschland uber alles" was written by Hayden in 1797. The present words were not written until 1841, by Hoffman von Fallersleben. At the time Germany was not united into an empire as it is to-day.

The "Wacht am Rhein" was written by Max Scheckenberger, an obscure Swabian merchant, and the music was by Carl Wilhelm. The song became popular during the Franco-German war.

The national hymn of Austria was composed by Hayden and is known as the "Emperor's Hymn."

The words of the "Star-Spangled Banner" were written by Frances Scott Key, an American prisoner on a British man-o-war during the bombardment of Fort McHenry in 1814. The melody is an old English drinking song.

The words of "Yankee Doodle" were probably written by a Dr. Shuckburg, a surgeon in the French and Indian wars. Halliday, the antiquarian, asserts the melody is derived from a chant used in the Italian churches of the twelfth century. It is well known that the song was a vintage song in France and Spain, and a song of the reapers in Holland. It is also said to be founded on a jig of 1745, known as "Kitty Fisher's Jig." The Cavaliers are said to have used it in ridicule of Cromwell just as the British used it against the Americans.

The origin of "America"—the tune of "God Save the King" in England and "Heil dir im Sieges Kranz" in Germany—is in doubt, though it is often ascribed to Dr. John Bull, an Englishman. It is also ascribed to Henry Carey.

The Russian national anthem, "God Protect the Czar," is one of the most majestic of hymns. It was composed by Colonel Alexis, an officer in the Russian army, in 182, to words by the poet Jonkowsky. It is probably the only inspired national song ever "written to order."

PRESIDENT AND MRS. WILSON TO DINE ALLIES DIPLOMATS

Representative of Entente Powers Will be Guests at White House Monday Evening.

By United Press.
Washington, January 21—With Ambassador Jusserand of France, dean of the diplomatic corps and Madame Jusserand as guests of honor, President and Mrs. Wilson tonight will entertain at the first of two diplomatic dinners to be given at the White House.

Seating representatives of the warring powers together being out of the question, the President is entertaining the representatives of the entente powers tonight. Next Monday evening representatives of the Central powers will be the guests of honor. At both functions neutrals will be present in equal number.

The names of the guests for this evening have not been made public. Of course it is known that in addition to Monsieur and Madame Jusserand, there will be Ambassador and Madame Bakhmeteff of Russia, Viscount and Countess Macchi di Celere of Italy, Viscount de Alte of Portugal and Minister Havenith and his wife, of Belgium.

As to the neutral guests who will be seated at the entente dinner, no information has been given today. It is understood, however, that these will include representatives from Brazil, Chile, Bolivia, Norway, Guatemala, Sweden, Denmark, Nicaragua, the Netherlands, Persia, Haiti, Venezuela, Costa Rica and Greece.

The seating of the Greek charge with the allies caused some comment when it was learned some time ago, but it was stated at that time that in arranging the neutrals no particular system was used other than selecting them alternately, according to their rank in the diplomatic corps.

Madame Jusserand will sit at the President's right, while the ambassador will sit at Mrs. Wilson's right. On the left of the executive couple will sit Madame Da Gama and Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil, respectively. The banquet will be served in the state dining room.

BIG DEMAND FOR CREWS ON LOGANSPORT DIVISION

Pennsylvania Railroad Trainmen Being Transferred from the Louisville Division.

The big demand for crews on the Logansport division of the Pennsylvania Railroad has resulted in a number of men being transferred from the local division to Logansport.

Concerning the rush a Jeffersonville dispatch to the Louisville Courier-Journal says:

There is such a demand for crews to operate trains of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railway on the Logansport division that a number of men from Jeffersonville have been transferred there. At Logansport the road had been advertising for men competent to do the work, especially firemen. Several months ago the road furloughed many men. Conductors were reduced to brakemen and engineers to firemen. Men of this class are being given the preference when they apply for work. The increased demand is due largely to the coal business from the Vandalia for Chicago.

TWO WAYS OF PREVENTING WINDOWS FROM FROSTING

The coating of frost which forms on display windows in cold weather is one of the troublesome problems for merchants. It is caused by the difference in the temperature on the outside and inside of the windows.

There are two ways of remedying the nuisance. One way is to make both sides uniformly cold by permitting air to enter along the base of the window through holes or narrow slits. Similar openings should also be made along the top of the window.

A second way, where the cold weather is not so severe or so long continued as to warrant going to this trouble, is to use a mixture of one half cup glycerine and one quarter cup alcohol added to two quarts of water. This solution rubbed over the inside surface will usually be found to be effective.

In every case where ventilation is resorted to, there should be an opening at the top of the window sufficient for the outlet of the air. If the window has a transom at the top, this will serve the purpose. If not, an opening or several openings that will total as much as the area of a square foot, cut equal distances apart, along the top of the window will be sufficient for the average window with a frontage of fifteen feet.

Indianapolis, Jan. 21.—The Anti-Saloon league may not call for a public announcement by candidates for or against state-wide prohibition before the primaries, March 7. This statement was made to the United Press to-day by E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the league, who added that this does not mean that the league will be idle or that it will not find out how the various candidates stand.

Shumaker said that although none of the candidates for Governor save J. Frank Hanly has announced for prohibition he is confident that if certain candidates were nominated they would be perfectly satisfactory to the league. "The only candidate who has placed himself on record against prohibition is J. A. M. Adair, who did so by his vote in congress," said Shumaker.

"If no other candidate comes out for prohibition will the league support Hanly, the progressive candidate?" Shumaker was asked.

"We may be for Hanly later on," said Shumaker. "But not necessarily. If there are other acceptable nominees for Governor, and I think there will be, Hanly may have some competition for the prohibition vote."

Shumaker said that he believed several candidates if elected, would sign a state-wide prohibition bill. He recalled the situation prior to Hanly's election as Governor, saying that Hanly, himself, did not announce for prohibition, but that the league knew it would have a friend in the Governor's chair.

Shumaker was asked how the league would use its influence for "dry" candidates if, as he said, it did not intend to make public announcements.

"We will get the word to the 'dry' voters," he said. "We don't care to tip our information to the 'wet' voters. Our work will be done and the proper, reliable information will be passed around."

Shumaker said the league was most interested in candidates for the following offices: Governor, lieutenant Governor, U. S. Senator, Congress and the State Legislature. He said that so far as he knew the only candidate who have announced for prohibition are: Arthur Robinson, republican candidate for U. S. Senator and Hanly.

With the primary less than two months away, Shumaker made it plain that the league's moves may not be made in the open.

ROMAN PAWN SHOPS NOT ON THE BOOM BUT ON BUM

Other Lines of Business Have Been Benefited by the Conflict, Says Rome Dispatch.

By United Press.

Rome, January 21.—War, which has boomed almost every industry in the world, has put the Italian pawnshop not on the boom but on the bum. The Italian women say this has happened because their soldier husbands are not at home to spend their money for drink and the wives can use the government pay to take care of the family instead of pawning everything in sight. Hard times for the people are supposed to make good times for the pawnbroker, but whatever other trials and miseries the war is inflicting upon Italian wives, mothers and sweethearts, it has lessened rather than increased the financial worries. Pawnbrokers in Rome alone report a slump of hundreds of thousands of dollars in business. Most of these are government controlled pawnshops and before the war their portals were among the most frequently in all Italy. The government allowance to wives and families amounts to only a few cents a day, but the Italian women have learned frugality in a hard school and they know their loss so well. Not only are most of them taking care of their families, but many of them are scratching and saving enough soldi to redeem some of the pledged household articles. "Of course I can manage when everything doesn't go for wine," said the wife of a workman. "A lire a day from the government and the fifty centimes a day I make from sewing is a lire and a half more than I had when my man was home. Bread and soup and a little cheese—what more does one want? My children and I manage very well."

Advices Contradictory.

By United Press.

London, January 21.—Contradictory advices from German sources on the situation at Athens reached here to-day. One report from Berlin said that King Constantine has rejected the demands of the allies that Teutonic diplomats be expelled from Greece.

Miss Lula Kropp has gone to Chicago where she will spend a few days with Goldie Marmaduke and from there she will go to Milwaukee to be employed as nurse in a Lutheran Altenheim.

BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

S. S. S. Removes the Cause.

Specialists in Catarrh troubles have agreed that it is an infection of the blood. The laboratories of the S. S. S. Co., at Atlanta, have proven it. Once you get your blood free from impurities—cleansed of the Catarrhal poisons, which it is now a prey to because of its unhealthy state—you will be relieved of Catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with Catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy, S. S. S., discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is always obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If yours is a long-standing case, be sure to write the Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga., for free expert medical advice. They will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean. They will prove to you that thousands of sufferers from Catarrh, after consistent treatment with S. S. S., have been freed from the trouble and all its disagreeable features and restored to health and vigor. Don't delay the treatment. Take S. S. S. at once.

Tooth Loose? Watch out for Pyorrhea!

When you find a tooth that gives back and forth, even just a little, see your dentist at once.

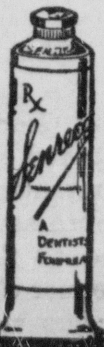

He will find conditions which you might overlook. He will find a gum recession, even though slight, where the gums have pulled away from the teeth. And he will tell you that you have the dread disease pyorrhea.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube of 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sentanel Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

RATE QUESTION.

There is much interest in the franchise pending before the city council and it is only natural that there should be. Through the new company the people of Seymour hope to get the rates for electric service to which they feel they are entitled. There is no attempt to fight the company having a monopoly on the business now. With the business men who are back of the new company and with the citizens who are supporting it the proposition is entirely one of business expediency.

It is not desirable to have two companies of this kind in a city the size of Seymour. One giving the service desired at a satisfactory charge ought to be able to meet the demands. Yet if the one company is not able to do this, there is but one thing left for the citizens and that is to organize another company and give the service and rates that will be satisfactory.

The men back of the new project have the money ready to build the new plant. There is no bluff about the movement and the council has been assured that the new company will be able to furnish the service in accordance with the requirements of the franchise. Seymour people, however, do not propose to pay rates that will net a revenue upon a capital that has never been invested in local property. The company holding the electric monopoly here has never experienced a co-operative citizens' fight against its utility. The fight is waged in all the earnestness of an aroused people.

The Republicans of Jackson county should make every effort to attend the rally at Brownstown Tuesday. This will mark the opening of the county Republican campaign. A good speaker has been engaged for an address and a rousing political rally is expected. Matters of importance are to be considered and every Republican should have a voice in the proceedings.

CHANGES MADE IN LIGHT FRANCHISE

night I did not think that there would be but three members left. I only intended to be gone a few minutes and as there is no precedent established on the matter of a short absence I thought I had the right to leave without permission. If there had been just one more member present, nothing would have been thought about my leaving the council chamber for a few minutes. I returned as soon as I could and when I was near the city building I met Kasting who told me that I was needed to complete the quorum."

After Andrews, who left his sick bed to come to the meeting, arrived, the council at once took up the franchise. Amendments must be made on second reading unless the unanimous consent of the members is given to changes on third reading. The first ordinance was replaced with an entirely new ordinance which was read and discussed section by section. There were one or two sections, however, that had been inserted since the meeting of the board of public works and Andrews said he did not desire to pass upon them as he was not familiar with them and wanted to be sure of their meaning and effect. By consent the members agreed to meet in adjourned session at 8 o'clock Monday night to complete action on the second reading.

Rockstroh presented an ordinance appropriating $200 for the contagious diseases' fund. The additional money was needed to meet the unexpected expenses resulting from the smallpox cases and the erection of the pest house.

Ahlbrand, chairman of the board of public health, reported that the pest house had been completed at a cost of about $150.

The claims of Mrs. A. A. Connor and George Ahl for furnishings destroyed or taken as the result of the quarantine of the Connor boarding house several weeks ago were referred to the board of works. Mrs. Connor claims that the health officers' orders resulted in the destruction of about $85 worth of bedding and other furnishings.

Consider This

Some one is probably reading the Classified Ads. tonight, looking for what you may have to sell.

Or again, probably some one may have just the thing you need.

Classified Ads. work both ways. Try them either to sell something you don't need, or to find something you do need.

The Republican, going into three out of every four homes in Seymour, is the logical medium for reaching the people of Seymour.

Republican Classified Ads. pay big returns on the investment.

His First Thought = the Classified Ads.

The classified ad is indeed a friend in time of need. From the boy mourning the loss of his dog to the business man in search of real estate or other investment, to the employer looking for the right kind of help, or to those looking for rental property or a home of their own, the classified ad is almost their first thought.

Especially is this true with those who have tried the classified ads, and learned for themselves their wonderful result producing power—have proved for themselves their ability to sell property, to rent houses, to locate lost property, to secure help, to find employment—to do a dozen other things, and above all, to do them quickly and at a minimum of expense. Truly the classified ad is

The Last Resort of Those Who Have Never Tried Them, The First of Those Who Have

Republican Classified Ads offer you the best medium for making your wants known to the people of Seymour, Jackson County and vicinity. The Daily takes your message into 1,500 homes, 1,200 of which are right here in the city, while the Weekly issue reaches over 2,000 homes, most of whom are within the trade territory of Seymour. This wide distribution, coupled with the fact that nearly everyone reads the classified ads, accounts for the remarkable results which they accomplish.

These results speak louder than any words, so we have selected here only a few examples of the work that Republican classified ads have performed. There have been hundreds of similar cases, but these will serve to show a few of the ways in which others have used them. They will do the same for you.

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING

FOR SALE—Schubert Piano, second hand, good as new. Can be purchased at a bargain.

One insertion of this ad. secured several inquiries and the piano was sold to one inquirer before the third insertion. And pianos are not sold every day in Seymour.

FOR SALE—Oakland seven passenger touring car, in good condition.

Only one insertion of this ad. was necessary to find a buyer. When a ten cent investment in advertising will sell an automobile, is it any wonder the classified ads. are so popular?

FOR SALE—Vest pocket kodak, $3. Inquire here.

Two insertions sold this kodak.

FOR SALE—Five room house. Good location.

Only a few insertions were required to sell this property.

LOST—Conklin self-filling fountain pen. Return here.

This ad. brought back the pen within a few days.

LOST—Child's silver mesh bag. Return to this office.

One insertion was sufficient to recover the article.

LOST—Gold locket and chain. Monogram S. M. C. Return here.

They were returned after one insertion.

LOST—Black purse containing change and locket chain.

The purse was found and returned to its owner within a short time.

WANTED—Five or six foot floor case. Inquire here.

The case showed up.

FOR SALE—High oven gas range, good as new, price right.

Ordered for five insertions—only one required.

FOR RENT—Five room cottage with bath, South Broadway. Inquire 401 Carter St.

This ad. was ordered for five insertions, but one proved sufficient to find a good renter.

TO LET—Rooms for lighthouse-keeping, Bruce street. Inquire here.

One insertion secured good roomers.

WANTED—Girl for general work in small family.

One insertion of this ad. recently brought several replies.

WANTED—Young man, steady work, year around.

The right boy read this little ad. and now has a good job.

FOR RENT—Nice four room cottage, good location.

One insertion found a good renter. The classified ad. is the greatest real estate agent in the world.

FOR SALE—Secondhand range, good condition.

This ad. sold the range within a few days.

WANTED—Experienced cook.

Good cooks are generally supposed to be scarce, but one insertion of this ad. located one.

WANTED—Girl to do house work. Small family. Good wages. One who can leave for Missouri soon.

Three insertions of this ad. were all that were required, and a good girl was secured.

FOR RENT—Modern six room house.

Only a few insertions found a good renter. There are scores of similar instances on our records.

WANTED—Bright honest boy, about 16 years of age.

One insertion got the right boy.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easily as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISSLING, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

Seven Keys TO Baldpate

By
EARL DERR BIGGERS

Copyright, 1915, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Goodby," said the girl. She stood in the window of her room, while a harsh voice called, "That you, dearie?" from inside. "And I may add," she smiled, "that in my profession a following is considered quite-desirable."

She disappeared, and Mr. Magee, after a few minutes in his room, descended again to the office. In the center of the room Elijah Quimby and Hayden stood face to face.

"What is it, Quimby?" asked Magee.

"I just ran up to see how things were going," Quimby replied, "and I find him here."

"Our latest guest," smiled Magee.

"I was just reminding Mr. Hayden."

Quimby said, his teeth set, an angry light in his eyes, "that the last time we met he ordered me from his office."

I told you, Mr. Magee, that the Suburban railway once promised to make use of my invention. Then Mr. Kendrick went away, and this man took charge. When I came around to the offices again he laughed at me. When I came the second time he called me a loafer and ordered me out."

"Well?" asked Hayden.

"And now," Quimby went on, "I find you trespassing in a hotel left in my care—the tables are turned. I ought to show you the door. I ought to put you out."

"Try it," sneered Hayden.

"No," answered Quimby, "I ain't going to do it. Maybe it's because I've grown timid, brooding over my failure. And maybe it's because I know who's got the seventh key."

Hayden made no reply. No one stirred for a minute, and then Quimby moved away, and went out through the dining room door.

The seventh key! Mr. Magee thrilled at the mention of it. So Elijah Quimby knew the identity and the mission of the man who hid in the annex. Did any one else? Magee looked at the broad acreage of the mayor's face, at the ancient lemon of Max's, at Bland's, frightened and thoughtful, at Hayden's, concerned but smiling. Did any one else know? Ah, yes, of course. Down the stairs the professor of comparative literature felt his way to food.

"Is dinner ready?" he asked, peering about.

The candles flickered weakly as they fought the stronger shadows. Winter roared at the windows. Somewhere above a door crashed shut. Close to its final scene drew the drama at Baldpate inn. Mr. Magee knew it; he could not have told why. The others seemed to know it too. In silence they waited while the hermit scurried along his dim way preparing the meal.

In silence they sat while Miss Norton and her mother descended. Once there was a little flurry of interest when Miss Thornhill and Hayden met at the foot of the stairs.

"Myra!" Hayden cried. "In heaven's name, what does this mean?"

"Unfortunately," said the girl, "I know—all it means."

And Hayden fell back into the shadows.

CHAPTER XVIII. Table Talk.

FINALLY the attitude of the hermit suggested that the dinner was ready.

"I guess you might as well sit down," he remarked. "It's all fixed, what there is to fix. This place don't need a cook, it needs a commissary department."

"Peters," reproved Magee. "That's hardly courteous to our guests."

"Living alone on the mountain," replied the hermit from the dining room door, "you get to have such a high regard for the truth you can't put courtesy first. You want to, but you have not the heart."

The winter guests took their places at the table and the second December dinner at Baldpate inn got under way. But not so genially as on the previous night did it progress. On the faces of those about him Mr. Magee noted worry and suspicion; now and again menacing cold eyes were turned upon him; evidently first in the thoughts of those at table was a little package rich in treasure, and evidently first in the thoughts of most of them, was the probable holder of that package, was Mr. Magee himself. Several times he looked up to find Max's catlike eyes upon him, sinister and cruel behind the incongruous gold rimmed glasses; several times he saw Hayden's eyes, hostile and angry, seek his face. They were desperate; they would stop at nothing; Mr. Magee felt that as the drama drew to its close they saw him and him alone between them and their golden desires.

"Before I came up here to be a hermit," remarked Cargan contemporaneously with the removal of the soup, "which I may say in passing I ain't been able to be with any success owing to the popularity of the sport on Baldpate mountain, there was never any candles on the table where I ate. No, sir. I left them to the people up on the avenue—to Mr. Hayden and his kind that like to work in dim surroundings—I was always strong for a bright light on my food. What I'm afraid of is that I'll get the habit up here and will be wanting Charlie to set out a silver candelabrum with my lager. Candles'd be quite an innovation at Charlie's, wouldn't they, Lou?"

"Too swell for Charlie's," commented Mr. Max. "Except after closing hours. I've seen 'em in use there then, but the idea wasn't glory and decoration."

"I hope you don't dislike the candles, Mr. Cargan," remarked Miss Norton. "They add such a lot to the romance of the affair, don't you think? I'm terribly thrilled by all this. The rattling of the windows, and the flickering light—two lines of a poem keep running through my head:

"My lord he followed after one who whispered in his ear—
The weeping of the candles and the wind is all I hear."

"I don't know who the lord was nor what he followed—perhaps the seventh key. But the weeping candles and the wind seem so romantic—and so like Baldpate inn tonight."

"If I had a daughter your age," commented Cargan, not unkindly, "she'd be at home reading Laura Jean Libbey by the fire, and not chasing after romance on a mountain."

"That would be best for her, I'm sure," replied the girl sweetly. "For then she wouldn't be likely to find out things about her father that would prove disquieting."

"Dearie!" cried Mrs. Norton. No one else spoke, but all looked at the mayor. He was busily engaged with his food. Smiling his amusement, Mr. Magee sought to direct the conversation into less personal channels.

"We hear so much about romance, especially since its widely advertised death," he said. "And to every man I ever met it meant something different. Mr. Cargan, speaking as a broad minded man of the world—what does romance mean to you?"

The mayor ran his fingers through his graying hair and considered seriously.

"Romance," he reflected. "Well, I ain't much on the talk out of books. But here's what I see when you say that word to me: It's the night before election, and I'm standing in the front window of the little room on Main street where the boys can always find me. Down the street I hear the snarl and rumble of bands, and pretty soon I see the yellow flicker of torches, like the flicker of that candle, and the bobbing of banners. And then—the boys march by—all the boys! Pat Doherty and Bob Larsen and Matt Sanders—all the boys! And when they get to my window they wave their hats and cheer. Just a fat old man in that window, but they'll go to the pavement with any guy that knocks him. They are loyal. They are for me. And so they march by, cheering and singing—all the boys—just for me to see and hear. Well, that—that's romance to me."

"Power," translated Mr. Magee.

"Yes, sir!" cried the mayor. "I know I've got them. All the reformers in the world can't spoil my thrill then. They're mine. I guess old Napoleon knew that thrill. I guess he was the greatest romancer the world ever knew. When he marched over the mountains with his starving bunch and looked back and saw them in rags and suffering—for him—well, I reckon old Nap was as close to romance then as any man ever gets."

"I wonder," answered Mr. Magee. It came to him suddenly that in each person's definition of this intangible thing might lie exposed something of both character and calling. At the far end of the table Mrs. Norton's lined, tired face met his gaze. To her he put his question.

"Well," she answered, and her voice seemed softer than its wont, "I ain't thought much of that word for a good many years now. But when I do—say, I seem to see myself sitting on our porch back home thirty years ago. I've got on a simple little muslin dress, and I'm slender as Elsie Janis, and the color in my cheeks is—well, it's the sort that Norton likes. And my hair—but I'm thinking of him, of Norton. He's told me he wants to make me happy for life, and I've about decided I'll let him try. I see him coming up our front walk, coming to call on me. Have I mentioned I've got a figure, a real sweet figure? That's about what romance means to me."

"Youth, dear?" asks Miss Norton gently.

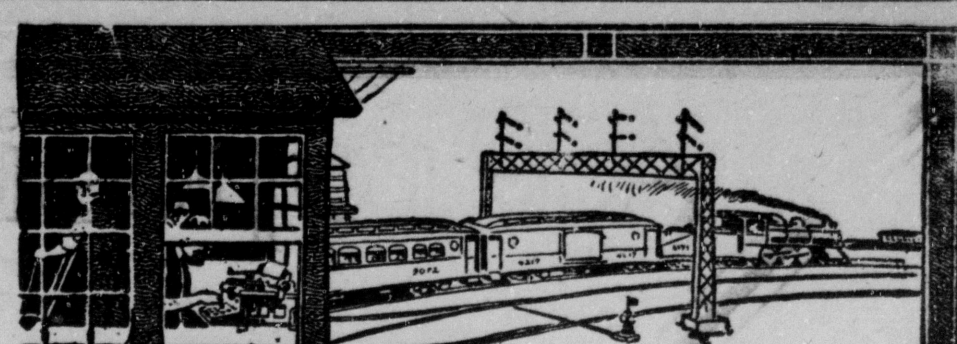

"That's it, dearie," answered the older woman dreamily. "Youth."

For a time those about the table sat in silence, picturing, no doubt, the slender figure on the steps of that porch long ago. Not without a humorous sort of pity did they glance occasionally toward the woman whom Norton had begged to make happy. The professor of comparative literature was the first to break the silence.

"The dictionary," he remarked academically, "would define romance as a species of fictitious writing originally composed in the romance dialects and afterward in prose. But the dictionary is prosaic—it has no soul. Shall I tell you what romance means to me? I will. I see a man tolling in a dim laboratory, where there are strange fires and strange odors. Night and day he experiments, the love of his kind in his eyes, a desire to help in his heart. And then—the golden moment—the great moment in that quiet, dreary cell—the moment of the discovery. A serum, a formula—what not. He gives it to the world and a few of the sick are well again and a few of the sorrowful are glad. Romance means neither youth nor power to me. It means—service."

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson IV.

January 23

First Quarter

THE SPIRIT OF LIFE. Rom. 8:12-30.

GOLDEN TEXT.—As many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are sons of God.—Rom. 8:14.

After a lesson on Pentecost and Peter's first sermon such a chapter as Romans viii seems to be an appropriate study, for in it the Spirit is mentioned nineteen times in connection with conversion, the daily life of the believer and the redemption of our bodies at the resurrection of the just. The epistle begins with a statement by the apostle, as a servant of Jesus Christ, that he was separated into the gospel of God concerning His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who was with power declared to be the Son of God by His resurrection from the dead (1:4). He said that this gospel was the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth, that it made him debtor to all who had not heard it, that he was ready to give it to all and that he was not ashamed of it (1:14-16). In the following chapters he declares plainly that all, without exception, are guilty before God and cannot be saved by trying to be good or do good, but may be justified freely by grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus (iii, 9-24; iv, 1-7, 19-25; v, 1-11; vi, 23). Then in our lesson chapter, beginning with "no condemnation" and ending with "no separation" because of the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord, he sets forth more fully the benefits of this great redemption to every believer and to the whole creation. The whole chapter should be studied, omitting none of it.

The phrase "In Christ Jesus" (verses 1, 2, 39) seems to me to be the key to the whole chapter. Nothing more is necessary, nothing less will suffice, for salvation or for the daily life of those who are saved. (Gal. v, 6; vi, 15; Eph. ii, 10, 13; iii, 13). The carnal mind, the flesh, the natural man, can never be improved so as to be fit for the presence of God, and, although it remains in us after we become "in Christ," we are under no obligation to it and should have no confidence in it, but continually, prayerfully and persistently reckon it dead in the power of the Holy Spirit (chapter vi, 11; vii, 24, 25; viii, 1-14; I Cor. ix, 27; II Cor. iv, 10, 11; Phil. iii, 3). By the Spirit and the Word we are born again just as in the beginning of the Bible record the light shone in the darkness (Gen. 1, 2, 3; II Cor. iv, 6), and only by the same Spirit and Word can we live the life of a child of God (John vi, 63; xvii, 17). The Spirit always works by the Word and thus bears witness to the believer. The witness of the Spirit is not a feeling, an emotion, an experience, but is simply a resting unwaveringly on what the Spirit says to us in His word. Compare lesson verse 16 and John 1, 12, and see my tract on "The Witness of the Spirit."

Having received the Lord Jesus it is our privilege to know, on the authority of the infallible word of God, that we have become children of God, heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ, have now eternal life and can never perish (verses 16, 17; John x, 28). While this assurance is not essential to salvation, it is necessary in order to live the life of victory that will glorify God. As the redeemed of the Lord we have become soldiers of Jesus Christ and are ever in a great conflict with the world, the flesh and the devil, so there will be much to endure in the way of trial as well as much to do in the way of service, but the way is all prepared for us and also the works we are to do. (II Tim. ii, 3, 4; Eph. vi, 10-18; ii, 10; Rev. ii, 10; Phil. 1, 29.) God the Father, Son and Spirit are all for us (verses 26, 31, 34). All things are working together for our good, to make us more like Him whose witnesses we are, and we are assured that all we can possibly need is freely given to us in Christ (verses 28, 29, 32).

We shall not be the overcomers that we should be in the process of being killed all the day long (verse 36; Ps. xlv, 22) unless we lay to heart our lesson verses 18 to 25. There is real suffering with Christ, not for our salvation, but in service and fellowship, for every believer, and we will not triumph in the conflict nor endure patiently unless we have ever before us the glory of His kingdom, which we are to share with Him. The whole creation is groaning, and never before so severely as now (May, 1915), and there will be no permanent deliverance until the time of the manifestation of the sons of God—that is, the time of our coming with Christ in His glory to set up on earth His kingdom of righteousness and peace. It is true that if we are "in Christ" we are now children of God, but not until we meet Him in the air shall we know the full meaning of adoption, the redemption of our body (verse 23 and I John iii, 1, 2; see also Col. iii, 4; Rev. iii, 21; v, 9, 10). We groan while we wait for the redeemed body at His coming to the air for us. The whole creation groans while it waits for His coming with us to deliver it from its long bondage of sin and suffering (verses 19-23).

All things are not working for our comfort, but for our present and eternal good in His sight, and all is because of His love from which nothing can separate us (verses 38, 39). If we could see the glory which awaits us and for which He is fitting us by the all things we would be more willing to bear all.

WHY, YOU POOR MISGUIDED BOOB - THERE ARE NO STABILISING PLANES ON THE THING - IT'LL TURN UPSIDE DOWN SURE, AND YOU'LL BREAK THAT INVERTED SOUP PLATE HAT OF YOURS.

IF YOU'D ONLY PUT A PAIR OF AILERONS IN HERE AND PUT PIANO WIRES IN PLACE OF THESE VIOLIN STRINGS, IT MIGHT GO UP FOR A SHORT WHILE.

AH - I'M GOING TO TRY IT ANYWAY.

HEY YOU FORGOT TO STRING GUY WIRES ON THE ARMS OF YOUR REAR OUTRIGGER - YOU'LL NEVER BE ABLE TO COME DOWN -

I'M GOING UP AND BREAK THE ALTITUDE RECORD.

IT'S SUICIDE, I TELL YOU - YOUR PETROL WILL NEVER HOLD OUT, AND BESIDES YOUR RUDDER IS OUT OF JOINT AND THE ELEVATOR IS WOBBLY.

GOING DOWN THIS IS WHAT WE AVIATORS CALL A SPIRAL DESCENT

OH - IT IS NO USE NOW - AND AFTER ALL I TOLD HIM. IF HE ONLY HAD A BOX TAIL THERE MIGHT BE SOME HOPE - BUT IT IS TOO LATE - I WONDER WHAT HIS SON OSWALD WILL SAY WHEN HE FINDS HIMSELF AN ORPHAN.

ON BEHALF OF THE AVIATION SOCIETY OF DENMARK, I TAKE PROFOUND PLEASURE IN HANGING THIS MEDAL ON THE COAT OF A MAN WITH BRAIN ENOUGH TO DESIGN AN AEROPLANE AND BREAK A RECORD IN IT ON IT'S FIRST FLIGHT.

I KNEW HE'D WIN IT.

I AM OVERWHELMED.
